Good morning Michael,

It is nice to read your email, and I am glad to hear that we have served you well these years.

That sounds fine - the caption you suggest for the image is exactly what I would have requested, and your offer to show me a review copy in advance is appreciated.

Therefore: permission granted.

Best regards,

Rob | SkyDemon

Dear SkyDemon team,

I have been a satisfied user of your app since 2020.

I am currently compiling a short blog post on the intricacies of flying through the airspace above national parks in Austria.

Your team has already updated their maps based on information shared by Austrian fliers in this SkyDemon forum post:

<http://forums.skydemon.aero/Topic17160.aspx>

I would like to ask for your permission to use a small map excerpt/screenshot from SkyDemon in my blog post.

The area of interest would be Hohe Tauern national park (at approx 47°06'17"N 12°38'02"E).

I would be happy to include the following attribution:

"Map excerpt © SkyDemon 2024, used with permission"

I would greatly appreciate your permission to use the map excerpt in my blog post.

If it would help, I could provide a draft of the blog post for your review, before it goes live.

Best,
Michael
